Sex abuse charged to youth leader in Hoover

By Kent Faulk
News staff writer

A Hoover man who was involved in a youth program at his church and served as a volunteer with Big Brothers has been charged with sexually abusing at least two youths.

William Ray Hunnicutt Jr., 23, of [redacted], Hoover, was arrested last Friday by Hoover police on warrants filed at the Jefferson County Courthouse in Bessemer, authorities said.

Hunnicutt was booked into the Jefferson County Jail on two counts of child abuse, one count of sodomy and a charge of enticing a child for immoral purposes, according to a jailer.

He was released on $125,000 bond Tuesday afternoon after a bail hearing before Bessemer Circuit Court Judge Dan Reynolds, authorities said. His bond had earlier been reduced from $325,000 by Bessemer District Court Judge J.W. Patton, officials in the Bessemer District Attorney's office said.

Roger Appell, Hunnicutt's attorney, said he couldn't comment and had advised Hunnicutt not to talk with reporters. "We haven't had an opportunity to investigate it (the charges)," he said.

Laura Holt, juvenile officer with the Hoover Police Department, said the investigation is continuing and declined to comment about the present case. She referred inquiries to Lt. Nick Derris, who couldn't be reached by phone for comment Tuesday.

Woody Rodgers, deputy Jefferson County district attorney for the Bessemer Cutoff, said Tuesday that there are now at least two victims — both in their early teens — involved in the cases. "There are potentially a number of victims," he said.

Hunnicutt, a karate instructor, participated in Big Brothers of Greater Birmingham Inc. and was involved in a youth program at Green Valley Baptist

He said he didn't know if any of the victims were involved in any of those activities.

But officials at the church were notified of a potential problem when Hunnicutt was arrested, Rodgers said. "They'd been suspicious and said they'd been limiting his contact with young people," he said.

Attempts to contact church officials by phone Tuesday were unsuccessful.

Rogers said he didn't know if officials with the Big Brothers program had been notified, but "if they haven't they will (be)."

Mike Falligant, director of the Big Brothers program, said Tuesday night that Hunnicutt was terminated from the program in September when leaders became aware of a potential problem and the investigation by the Hoover Police Department.

"In fact, we were instrumental" in helping police begin their investigation, Falligant said.

He said Hunnicutt became a "big brother" last spring and until he was terminated from the program he had only dealt with one child. Falligant said he doesn't know if that child is connected with any of the current or potential cases against Hunnicutt.

"We've been in business 15 years and this has never happened," Falligant said.

He said he believes the Big Brothers program has one of the most comprehensive screening processes of any social service organizations.

The process:

- An orientation session is held for those interested in the program.

- The applicant then provides information which includes three personal references plus an employer reference, all of which are checked.

- A check is made to see if the person has a criminal history.

- Program officials then have a personal interview with the candidate, which lasts an average of an hour and a half.

- A visit is then made to the person's home.

- The applicant is then given program training.

- Once the volunteer is paired with a child, monthly checks are made with all participants during the first year.

- After the first year the checks are made bi-monthly.

"I feel like we do all we can conceivably do" to screen applicants for the program, Falligant said. "Obviously we're going to look to see if there's something further we can do."

MEMORANDUM

TO: JAMES C. TINKER

FROM: MAC GANT

SUBJECT: WILLIAM RAY HUNNICUTT, JR.

Some time ago you asked that I look into the charges against the above named individual, who had been charged with child abuse. It took some time to run down the jurisdiction in which the charges were brought and all the matters have not yet been concluded but here is what has transpired since the charges:

1. All charges including sexual abuse, sodomy and enticing a minor into a dwelling for immoral purposes were brought in the Bessemer Division of the Jefferson County Courts.
2. One of these charges were transferred to the Birmingham Division for disposition. In that case for "enticing a child to enter for immoral purposes" Hunnicutt pled guilty and was sentenced to 1 year and 1 day in prison and ordered to pay $25.00 to the Crime Victims' Compensation Fund. The sentence was suspended and Hunnicutt was put on two-year unsupervised probation. He is now on that probation. SEE EXHIBIT #1.
3. The other charges of child abuse, sodomy 1st degree and sexual abuse 1st degree, were handled in the Bessemer Division and the District Attorney asked that the charges be dismissed (Nolle Prosequi). So these cases are now over. SEE EXHIBITS #2, #3 AND #4.
4. Another case of "enticing children for immoral purposes" was brought in the Bessemer Division. In that case Hunnicutt pled guilty and was sentenced to two years in prison. On March 7, 1989 that case was reset for hearing and I am advised by the Deputy Circuit Court Clerk that a hearing will be held on April 25, 1989 on a petition for probation. SEE EXHIBIT #5.

It would be my opinion that the more serious charges of child abuse, sodomy 1st degree and sexual abuse 1st degree were dismissed in exchange for a guilty plea on the lesser offense of enticement.

I will keep in touch with the case and let you know how the probation hearing comes out. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Abuse charges against Hoover man

Roover police filed two additional charges Monday against a man for sexually abusing children in connection with an investigation into his activities with several youth programs.

Lt. Nick Derzis of the Hoover Police Department said one second-degree sexual abuse charge and one charge of enticing a child into a home for immoral purposes were filed against William Ray Hunnicutt Jr., 23, of 2410 Chapel Road, turned himself in to authorities at the Jefferson County Jail in Bessemer, about 3:30 p.m. Monday and was released on $500 bond for each charge, a jailer said.

Hunnicutt was arrested Dec. 18 and charged with two counts of child abuse, one count of sodomy and a charge of enticing a child for immoral purposes, authorities said. He was released Dec. 22 on $125,000 bond, the authorities said.

Derzis said the charges filed against Hunnicutt on Monday involve one child and the previous charges also involved one child. "There's still a potential for additional victims," he said.

Hunnicutt, a karate instructor, participated in Big Brothers of Greater Birmingham Inc. and was involved in a youth program at Green Valley Baptist Church, authorities said.

Although Derzis said Hunnicutt did meet the victims through his activities with young people, he wouldn't specify to what group or organizations the victims may have belonged.

Dear Jim:

Thank you for your letter of January 23 with your concerns about some individuals.

I feel we should place William Ray Hunnicutt, Jr. on our confidential file. His involvement with youth in both the church and the Big Brothers makes him a prime candidate for attempting registration with the Boy Scouts of America.

I am enclosing a Confidential Record Sheet which I would like to have completed so we can identify Mr. Hunnicutt should he attempt to come affiliated with the Boy Scouts. We would also like the outcome of the legal action, once this is completed. I think this would give us all the information we need for refusal.

We also appreciate the material you sent us related to Dale L. Cook. I believe the letter you sent is fine and can be released to Mr. Cook indicating that he can no longer be registered with the Boy Scouts of America.

We would like more material related to this item. If any legal action takes place, we need this information to strengthen our files. Newspaper clippings, court records, and final disposition will be helpful. We would also like a paper with Mr. Cook's signature, if available.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me. We want to help you to protect the youth of America.

Dear Paul:

The President of the Birmingham Area Council has appointed a "Standards of Leadership Committee" to serve as advisors and consultants to the Council Executive related to qualifications of volunteers to serve in Scouting. Based upon the recommendation of this committee, I am enclosing a couple of newspaper articles related to an alleged incident of child abuse involving a volunteer with Big Brothers/Big Sisters. Although he is not registered as a volunteer with the council, I did not know if we should place him on a confidential list to help prevent future involvement. His mailing address is [REDACTED] Hoover, Alabama 35216. Therefore, the decision is up to you as to whether you include him on your confidential list. Handwritten: HOOVER

Recently, we were made aware of the fact that Assistant Scoutmaster, Dale L. Cook, of Troop 29 was under investigation by the Department of Human Resources for alleged child abuse. Upon hearing these rumors, I immediately contacted the head of the institution and Troop Committee Chairman, and they informed me that Mr. Cook had resigned from his Scouting position last September. They reported that Mr. Cook had attempted suicide and had been recently released from a medical facility. They strongly recommended that the suggested form letter not be given to Mr. Cook at this time, as it might result into a serious tragedy. I was assured by the minister and the chairman of the troop committee that they would prevent his future involvement with the troop. After reviewing the details of this situation with our council Standards of Leadership Committee, they have recommended that, with your approval, I mail the enclosed letter to Mr. Cook. I will wait to receive your evaluation of this recommended procedure.

More sexual abuse charges filed against Hoover man

Hoover police filed two additional charges Monday against a man for sexually abusing children in connection with an investigation into his activities with several youth programs.

Lt. Nick Derzis of the Hoover Police Department said one second-degree sexual abuse charge and one charge of enticing a child into a home for immoral purposes were filed against William Ray Hunnicutt Jr., 23.

Hunnicutt, of 2410 Chapel Road, turned himself in to authorities at the Jefferson County Jail in Bessemer about 3:30 p.m. Monday and was released on $500 bond for each charge, a jailer said.

Hunnicutt was arrested Dec. 18 and charged with two counts of child abuse, one count of sodomy and a charge of enticing a child for immoral purposes, authorities said. He was released Dec. 22 on $125,000 bond, the authorities said.

Derzis said the charges filed against Hunnicutt on Monday involve one child and the previous charges also involved one child. "There's still a potential for additional victims," he said.

Hunnicutt, a karate instructor, participated in Big Brothers of Greater Birmingham Inc. and was involved in a youth program at Green Valley Baptist Church, authorities said.

Although Derzis said Hunnicutt did meet the victims through his activities with young people, he wouldn't specify to what group or organizations the victims may have belonged.

Sex abuse charged to youth leader in Hoover

By Kent Faulk
News staff writer

A Hoover man who was involved in a youth program at his church and served as a volunteer with Big Brothers has been charged with sexually abusing at least two youths.

William Ray Hunnicutt Jr., 23, of 2410 Chapel Road, Hoover, was arrested last Friday by Hoover police on warrants filed at the Jefferson County Courthouse in Bessemer, authorities said.

Hunnicutt was booked into the Jefferson County Jail on two counts of child abuse, one count of sodomy and a charge of enticing a child for immoral purposes, according to a jailer.

He was released on $125,000 bond Tuesday afternoon after a bail hearing before Bessemer Circuit Court Judge Dan Reynolds, authorities said. His bond had earlier been reduced from $325,000 by Bessemer District Court Judge J.W. Patton, officials in the Bessemer District Attorney's office said.

Roger Appell, Hunnicutt's attorney, said he couldn't comment and had advised Hunnicutt not to talk with reporters. "We haven't had an opportunity to investigate it (the charges)," he said.

Laura Holt, juvenile officer with the Hoover Police Department, said the investigation is continuing and declined to comment about the present cases. She referred inquiries to Lt. Nick Derzis, who couldn't be reached by phone for comment Tuesday.

Woody Rodgers, deputy Jefferson County district attorney for the Bessemer Cutoff, said Tuesday that there are now at least two victims — both in their early teens — involved in the cases. "There are potentially a number of victims," he said.

Hunnicutt, a karate instructor, participated in Big Brothers of Greater Birmingham Inc. and was involved in a youth program at Green Valley Baptist Church in Hoover, Rodgers said.

He said he didn't know if any of the victims were involved in any of those activities.

But officials at the church were notified of a potential problem when Hunnicutt was arrested, Rodgers said. "They'd been suspicious and said they'd been limiting his contact with young people," he said.

Attempts to contact church officials by phone Tuesday were unsuccessful.

Rodgers said he didn't know if officials with the Big Brothers program had been notified, but "if they haven't they will (be)."

Mike Falligant, director of the Big Brothers program, said Tuesday night that Hunnicutt was terminated from the program in September when leaders became aware of a potential problem and the investigation by the Hoover Police Department.

"In fact, we were instrumental" in helping police begin their investigation, Falligant said.

He said Hunnicutt became a "big brother" last spring, and until he was terminated from the program he had only dealt with one child. Falligant said he doesn't know if that child is connected with any of the current or potential cases against Hunnicutt.

"We've been in business 15 years and this has never happened," Falligant said.

He said he believes the Big Brothers program has one of the most comprehensive screening processes of any social service organizations.

The process:

- An orientation session is held for those interested in the program.

- The applicant then provides information which includes three personal references plus an employer reference, all of which are checked.

- A check is made to see if the person has a criminal history.

- Program officials then have a personal interview with the candidate, which lasts an average of an hour and a half.

- A visit is then made to the person's home.

- The applicant is then given program training.

- Once the volunteer is paired with a child, monthly checks are made with all participants during the first year.

- After the first year the checks are made bi-monthly.

"I feel like we do all we can conceivably do" to screen applicants for the program, Falligant said. "Obviously we're going to look to see if there's something further we can do."
